NEW LIQUOR BILL

ROUND THE CLOCK DRINKS ON SIX DAYS

MINISTER'S VIEWS ON SUNDAY OPENING

WHEN the Intoxicating Liquor Bill passes into law, the licensing hours throughout the twenty-six counties will be from 10 a.m. till 10.30 p.m. on week days.

That this uniformity of hours will be created was indicated by the Minister for Justice during the Committee stage of the measure, which brought a very representative gathering of licensed vintners into the public gallery in the Dail yesterday.

Comparatively few of the 85 amendments were dealt with during the evening, and after preliminary sparring had abruptly been stopped by Mr. Boland's concession on uniformity of hours, the House settled down to a friendly argument on the desirability of giving the trade in the rural areas a reasonable Sunday opening.

BONA FIDE TRAFFIC

Urging the Minister to accept the principle of 11 o'clock closing in rural areas, Mr. F. LYNCH (F.G., Kerry) said he appreciated that the Minister had important influences of an important body of persons to deal with. These persons had the habit of regulating other people's lives. It was imposing on a Garda the duty that belonged to the Churches. It was not the duty of the Gardai to prevent people committing sin—they were there to prevent crime, and it was not right that in order to deal with the "hard chaws" everybody should be affected by licensing legislation.

The MINISTER said that the main purpose of the legislation was to prevent abuses of the so-called bona-fide traffic. He suggested that the closing hour should be 10.30 for weak days, including Saturday, but he would make a reservation as regards Sundays.

The Minister's suggestions were agreed to and the amendments were withdrawn.

RURAL SUNDAYS

Having achieved an extra half-hour for everybody, the House proceeded to ask the Minister for more. Mr. W. DAVIN (Lab., Leix-Offaly) holding that the country houses should be allowed to open from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sundays.

He was supported by Mr. LENIHAN (F.G., Cork), who said that one of the greatest advances that could be made at present, in social legislation would be to rid people of the idea that there was nothing wrong about breaking the licensing laws.

The opposite view came from a publican, Mr. M. J. KENNEDY (F.F., Athlone-Longford), who condemned the idea of a 7 days per week trade, on the grounds of hardship on the assistants.

Produce licensing laws that would have the approval and support of the average citizens, and apply them ruthlessly, was the policy enunciated by Dr. T. F. O'HIGGINS (F.G., Leix-Offaly), who expressed the view that some concession should be given to country areas, because, apart from any other aspect, it would be better to have people drinking on Sundays in their "home areas."

"TOO STRICT"

The opinion that existing restrictions were too severe was given by Mr. J. L. ESMONDE, K.C. (F.G., Wexford). "The licensing laws in this country are altogether too strict," he said, "and the proposal to differentiate between the people of the cities and in the country is an infringement of the spirit of the Constitution."

Mr. J. DILLON (Ind.) said that opening of country public-houses would not improve the standard of rural morality. He supported the Government in this bill, although he was himself a publican. The trouble in rural Ireland was that the police failed to enforce the licensing laws.

Mr. D. ALLEN (F.F.) said that Sunday opening of country public-houses, which in many cases were hardware stores, would lead to Sunday trading, and it would not be surprising if there followed a demand for Sunday fairs.

MINISTER'S STAND

Holding his ground, Mr. BOLAND said that Sunday opening would lead to a big and undesirable excess in drinking. "I will not give way on this question," he said, adding that there was a volume of opinion on the question which did not receive expression in the House, with the exception of a few deputies. Sunday opening would put the Sabbath on one side altogether.

Finally the issue was put to a division, and the Minister maintained his stand against Sunday opening by 61 votes to 25.

ELECTRICITY BILL

The Electricity (Supply) (Amendment) Bill, 1942, passed the Committee stage.

The British Air Ministry states that yesterday morning fighters destroyed a Junkers 88 over the North Sea. There was nothing else to report during daylight.

AXIS ARMY RETREATING ON WHOLE FRONT

ALLIES TAKE 9,000 PRISONERS

THE Middle East joint war communiqué, issued last night, said:—"The Axis forces in the western desert, after twelve days and nights of ceaseless attacks by our land and air force, are now in full retreat. Their disordered columns are being relentlessly attacked by our land forces and by the Allied Air Forces by day and night.

"General von Stumme, a senior general, who is said to have been in command during Marshal Rommel's absence in Germany, is known to have been killed. So far, we have captured over 9,000 prisoners, including General Ritter von Thoma, Commander of the German Afrika Korps, and a number of senior German and Italian officers.

"It is known that the enemies' losses in killed and wounded have been exceptionally high. Up to date we have destroyed more than 260 German and Italian tanks and captured or destroyed at least 270 guns. The full toll of the booty cannot be assessed at this stage of the operation.

"In the course of these operations our Air Forces, whose losses have been light, have destroyed and damaged in air combat over 300 aircraft and have destroyed or put out of action a like number on the ground.

"At sea our naval and air forces have sunk 50,000 tons, and damaged as much again, of shipping carrying Axis supplies to North Africa. The Eighth Army continues to advance."

CAIRO, Wednesday. — Reuter's Correspondent here says: "The Eighth Army's success in breaking the Axis lines west of El Alamein has forced on Marshal Rommel a general withdrawal from all his forward positions right down to the Qattara Depression, 40 miles from the Mediterranean. That is the most striking result so far of the great infantry and tank battle still raging in and beyond the gap which the Allied troops have torn through the depth of the Axis minefields, gun positions and tank traps. The latest reports from General Montgomery's headquarters indicate that the Eighth Army is closely following up the enemy retreating west of Deir el Angar, Himeimat and Munassib, key points which fell into our hands yesterday.

"Near the coast the Axis forces in the narrow pocket west of Tel el Eisa, between the railway and the sea, are evidently still holding out, but the battle has moved several miles to the west. Their position has thus worsened considerably in the past 48 hours, leaving them little hope of rejoining their main body.

DRIVEN WEST

"Except for this 'pocket,' the Axis forces have been driven west of a line running into the desert across the railway and coastal road from the village of Sidi Abd El Rahman. Between this village and the Allied bridgehead through the Axis defences, some eight or nine miles to the south, Rommel appears to be still moving back. General Montgomery reported to-day that Allied air forces were throwing their full weight against enemy units withdrawing along the coast road.

NON-STOP BOMBING

"Allied desert air squadrons broke all previous records by the number of their sorties yesterday. In the early afternoon enemy units were reported to be moving west along the coastal road. Every available plane of the Allied air forces in the Western desert was turned on to the task of blasting these slow-moving columns composed of anything on wheels. Hour after hour the bombing of the columns continued. The movement to the rear of the German and Italian transport—a confused trickle at first — increased in volume. As more and more vehicles joined the Axis columns the Allied airmen carried on the devastating work of punishing the retiring enemy. By mid-afternoon, reports were received of stoppages among the columns, now slowed up and badly dispersed. Even better targets were thus provided for the fighters and fighter-bombers, which went into attack almost at ground level. Towards late afternoon pilots returning to base reported that the road was blocked in several places by piles of smashed and twisted vehicles. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire the bombing continued until nightfall. In the darkness a line of fires stretched several miles along the road from the battle area to the rear. Guided to their targets by these fires, medium bombers now took over the work of destruction, and continued bombing throughout the night.

GERMAN REPORT

LONDON, Wednesday.—The German News Agency stated to-day: "In the early hours of the twelfth day of the British offensive the Commander of the Eighth Army renewed the expected assault on the north flank of the El Alamein front with the concentration of all the forces still remaining to him. After midnight the Axis positions were subjected to a violent artillery barrage, which lasted about six hours and which was to pave the way for the assault troops.

"The first thrust, carried out without tank support, was repulsed with heavy casualties. Only when a fresh thrust was launched with tanks were the attackers able to gain some ground at a few points. The Axis troops went over to elastic defence tactics, and held their tank forces in reserve. The German anti-aircraft artillery again intervened with great success, particularly against the heavy American long-barrelled tank. After an hour eleven of these mammoth tanks had been left on the field, while the Italian infantry and German tank grenadiers successfully took up the fight with the British tanks.

"NEW DEFENCE"

"Meanwhile our fighter squadrons had started attacking the British transport and fuel supplies. They destroyed several columns of petrol trucks, and set others on fire. By this action the mammoth tanks were paralysed to some extent, and now offered sure targets for the heavy artillery and A.-A. guns of the Axis. Up to midday the British tank forces have suffered considerable losses in tanks and other heavy war-material, as a result of this new form of Axis defence without achieving any appreciable advantages. While this report is being written (4.30 p.m.), the battle, which in the meantime has flared up with great ferocity, continues."—(Reuter.)

ALLIED VICTORY IN EGYPT

MESSAGE FROM KING

King George has sent the following message to General Alexander: "The Eighth Army, magnificently supported by the Royal Air Force and units of the Royal Navy, has dealt the Axis a blow of which the importance cannot be exaggerated.

"For the past fortnight we have all been following with anxious interest the progress of the hard-fought battle, and I can assure all three Services, embracing as they do the many representatives of the British Commonwealth and our Allies, of the admiration and pride of the whole Empire in their brilliant victory in the name of your fellow-countrymen all the world over.

"The news will come as a great and joyous climax to those all over the world who have been praying for an Allied victory in the desert. The subdued and modest claims put out by our side in the last few days made to-night's historic news of a great victory all the more dramatic. While we have succeeded in our main object of delivering a crippling blow, the Axis campaign is by no means over. We have won a homeric struggle, and it may be necessary to pause before any further progress is possible, but we can reasonably assume that the Afrika Korps, as we knew it, is nothing like the fighting factor that it was, and the chances of its reforming are—thanks to our Air Force and Navy in the Mediterranean—small indeed.

"I express to you, to Air Chief Marshal Tedder, to General Montgomery, to Air Vice-Marshal Coningham, and to the commanders and all ranks of the three Services my thanks for the far-reaching success which by your untiring co-operation you have so decisively achieved.—George R.I."—(Press Association.)

GERMAN DENIAL

BERLIN, Thursday.—The German News Agency early to-day said: "The British assertion that British tanks are operating behind the German lines is described as a gross exaggeration." It admitted that "some British armoured scouting cars may have penetrated to the Axis rear positions in the din of the battle." The present battle in North Africa was "like a sea engagement, the final result of which will become evident only when the battle is terminated," the Agency added.—(Reuter.)

CREAMERY BUTTER CONTROL

No creamery may, without the consent of the Minister for Agriculture, sell butter, except to persons who were regular customers during the three months ended 30th September last. The maximum quantity sold must not, with certain exceptions, including sales to hospitals and sanatoria, exceed two-thirds of the customer's normal purchases. The Order also restricts the removal from cold store of butter stored for winter requirements. The purpose of the Order is to ensure that the supply of butter available will be distributed as evenly as possible throughout the country.

DUBLIN FIRE DAMAGE

Officials of the Department of Posts and Telegraphs conferred yesterday about the extent of the damage done by yesterday morning's fire, which burned their store branch at St. John's road, Kingsbridge, to the ground. Among the matters discussed were the provision of temporary premises, the prospect of a resumption of work, and plans to ensure that the public service will be affected as little as possible.

Over seventy members of the staff have temporarily lost their employment because of the fire, which destroyed a great deal of material at present impossible to replace.

An official of the Department assured a reporter last night that every effort would be made to ensure that the general public would be inconvenienced as little as possible. The fire, however, has placed a great deal more work and worry upon the shoulders of Posts and Telegraph workers.

USE OF COAL DUFF SOUGHT

Amendment of the Coal Rationing Order, so as to permit of the allocation of a quantity of "duff" (a by-product of coal mining) from the Castlecomer coal mines to residents in the Castlecomer district, was sought by a deputation of shopkeepers, farmers and trade unionists from the district, who waited on Mr. Sean Lemass, Minister for Supplies, at his Department yesterday. The deputation was introduced by Mr. James Hughes, T.D., and Alderman J. P. Pattison, T.D.

U.S. REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE

DEMOCRATS' NARROW MAJORITY

NEW YORK, Wednesday—The flood of Republican votes came close to upsetting the Democratic control of the House. With 23 contests still undecided, late returns showed the Democrats assured of 209 seats and Republicans 200.

The position of the parties in the Senate up, to midnight was:—

Democrats—Elected, 15; seats already held and not contested in this election, 41. Total, 56.

Republicans—Elected, 16; seats already held, 20. Total, 36.

In the old Senate the Democrats had a 56 to 28 lead over the Republicans.

In the Gubernatorial contests the Democrats elected 8 Governors and the Republicans 15.

IRISH DESCENT

"Gang-buster" Thomas Dewey, elected by a plurality of 500,000, is the first Republican to be elected Governor of New York for twenty years. His maternal grandmother was born in County Cork.

Senator Lodge was re-elected, and Mrs. Clare Luce, playwright, wife of Mr. Henry Luce, publisher of Life and Time, has been elected Republican representative for Greenwich, Connecticut.

Among the surprises was the defeat of the 80 years old Independent Senator George Norris. After thirty years a Senator, Norris was defeated in the Nebraska contest by Republican Kenneth Wherry.

The Democratic Party finally secured control in the new House of Representatives last night, as slowly accumulating returns assured it of the 218 members necessary for a majority.

THE ROAD FUND

RECEIPTS EXCEED PAYMENTS

The balance due to the Central Fund from the Road Fund was reduced from £455,610, at 1st April, 1941, to £269,632 at 31st March last, states the report of Mr. G. McGrath, Comptroller and Auditor-General, on the Road Fund account for the year ended 31st March last, laid on the table of the Dail yesterday.

An excess of receipts over payments in the revenue account of £409,430 (as compared with £106,409 in the previous year) converted a deficiency on the Fund of £143,105 at the beginning of the year, into a surplus of £266,324 at 31st March last.

The increase in the excess of receipts was mainly due to an increase of £63,000 in the issues from the Central Fund in respect of motor taxation, and to reductions of £179,696 in the total paid to local authorities as grants for road maintenance, improvement of main roads, etc., and of £50,000 in the amount transferred to the Exchequer.

CHILDREN'S HOT MEALS

NEW EXTENSION

On all sides in Dublin praiseworthy efforts are being made to provide hot meals for Dublin's needy school children. A new phase of the campaign will be entered on next Monday in St. Paul's Parish, Arran Quay, under the joint auspices of the Catholic Social Service Guild and the Corporation. Electricity and turf fires will be used in cooking. The mothers of the children will call for the meals, take them home, and have them in readiness for the little ones when they arrive at mid-day. Stew will cost 2d. a pint, and three pints will be sufficient for the father, mother and children. The Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul are to supervise the cooking. Also, before the children, numbering some hundreds, leave their schools in the parish at the end of the day, they will be given a supply of milk and bread and jam.

COMPANY PROFITS

REPLY TO REV. DR. LUCEY

That the Government had long ago anticipated Dr. Lucey's demand for a "Social Audit Corporation," and by three separate Acts and two Emergency Powers Orders, together with high taxation, had initiated the form of control which he claimed as necessary for the benefit of the community, is stated by the Federation of Irish Manufacturers, Ltd., through its secretary, Mr. E. H. Childers, T.D.

Mr. Childers takes exception to statements made by the Rev. C. Lucey, D.D., St. Patrick's College, Maynooth, in a lecture on "Control of Company Profits," delivered in Cork. He discounts Dr. Lucey's assertion that a considerable proportion of auditors and the directors who engage their services were, apparently, guilty of "stock watering," or manipulation of capital values, and points to the very small number of fraudulent bankruptcies and prosecutions for embezzlement which has taken place in connection with protected industries.

In regard to Dr. Lucey's suggestion that drastic social control of prices and profits was required, Mr. Childers points out that before the war the Irish Government was ahead of most other democracies in setting up a Prices Commission to control prices, in order to ensure that industry was not taking unfair advantage of tariffs required for new, untried industrial developments.

TOBACCO SUPPLIES

The Revenue Commissioners, it is understood, will shortly issue a statement clarifying the position as regards the supplies of tobacco and cigarettes.

UTILITY CLOTHES

TAILORS' PROTEST

Irish tailors are resisting an effort on behalf of the Government to introduce British-type utility clothes to this country. At a special meeting with the appropriate Department in Dublin last week they explained their views.

Recently the Irish Times forecast that utility clothes were on their way—but stressed that they would be introduced to save only material, and not material and labour, as is the case in Great Britain.

British war-time clothing forbids turn-ups to trousers, waistcoats with a double-breasted jacket, more than three pockets in a jacket, and more than two pockets in a waistcoat. Trousers must not be more than nineteen inches at the base, there must be no buttons on cuffs, and overcoats—which must be single-breasted—must not have "turned-up" cuffs.

Such curtailments, tailors in Eire claim, are uneconomical. Trousers without turn-ups, they say, wear out much more quickly. Those with turn-ups can be altered and repaired.

A tailor told an Irish Times reporter yesterday that, if utility clothes were introduced on British lines, the trade would be hit extremely hard. The restrictions upon the width of the trousers alone would be unpopular, as the usual width is twenty-two or twenty-three inches, while some customers asked for them as wide as twenty-four inches.

BELFAST BY-ELECTION

PARTITION THE ISSUE

Messages of support from former colleagues in the Dail were read by Mr. Eamonn Donnelly at his close of campaign meeting in St. Mary's Hall, Belfast, last night. Mr. Donnelly is standing as Republican candidate in the Falls by-election. The messages were from General Sean MacEoin, Fine Gael T.D., and Mr. Cormac Breslin and Mr. Sean Buckley, Fianna Fail deputies. On the platform were Mr. James Stewart and Mr. P. McGurk, Nationalist members of the Northern Parliament.

In his speech Mr. Donnelly said: "There will be a general election in the South in the near future. All parties there have been saying with one voice that there is only one big issue—the reintegration of the national territory. We are not satisfied with that; we want more than that. We want to be able to go forward with a message from this area of West Belfast. When we win this seat our next move will be to go to Mid-Derry (vacant for over two years since the death of its Natidnalist member, Mr. George Leeke). We will fight that seat and win it, and we will make partition the paramount issue in Irish politics. We will never again allow it to be put on the long finger."

HOPE FOR CYCLISTS

SUPPLY PROSPECTS

A hint that increased supplies of bicycles and accessories soon might be available was given by Mr. S. Hutchinson, founder member, at last night's dinner of the Irish Cycle Traders' Association in Dublin. "Although the year ahead does not look very rosy," he said, "I understand that your council are in touch with the powers that be, and they are hoping that something tangible will result."

Mr. C. Doran, president, responding, said that one of the most important functions of their trade organisation was that of representing the trade viewpoint to Government Departments.

Mr. J. Murphy, proposing "Our Guests," said that they welcomed Alderman A. Byrne, T.D., as all traders and cyclists felt grateful to him for his recent efforts to establish municipal cycle parks in the city. The Lord Mayor, Alderman P. S. Doyle, T.D., also spoke.

MARKETING OF PIGS

As already foreshadowed in the Irish Times, the Department of Agriculture is about to review the system of marketing pigs in the twenty-six counties. The review is being undertaken in view of the low killings and the need for ensuring economy in transport, and with the object of eliminating producers' difficulties in disposing of their pigs when they are prepared for the factory.

HEATING OF SCHOOLS

Dublin City Branch of the Irish National Teachers' Organisation last night passed a resolution calling attention to the hardship which is being inflicted on young children in compelling them to attend schools in which no provision has been made for heating in the present severe weather

DERRY MAN DIES AT 104

James Carlan Gardner, Townsend street, Strabane, died yesterday in Strabane District Hospital at the age of 104 years. He was a widower. Early to bed and early to rise was his motto. He took long walks daily.

NEW ATTACKS HELD BY RED ARMY

WHILE Russian armies are being hurried southward to meet the new German threat in the Caucasus, the defenders of Stalingrad have repelled repeated attacks, launched with increased German forces, and gained local advantages in the city.

North-west of Stalingrad a bitter battle is being waged, with little progress by either side, and near Nalchik the German advance has been held.

MOSCOW, Wednesday.—Reuter's Correspondent here says that the latest messages from Stalingrad report that Soviet marines have repulsed all German attacks in one area of the city and thrown the Germans out of two blocks of houses. A number of other houses were cleared of German Tommy-gunners. German attempts to capture a Volga crossing were defeated, and south-west of Nalchik all German attacks have been beaten off. In the Tuapse area Soviet troops are gaining ground. Troops defending key towns and oilfields in the Northern Caucasus are in a difficult position south of Nalchik, where the Germans are throwing in very heavy forces in an attempt to clear up all the most important valley strongholds and branch railway lines leading south to Mozdok before resuming their attacks towards the Grozny oilfields.

The battle for Stalingrad has in the last few days swung in favour of the defenders, and there is now very little doubt that the Red Flag will still be flying over Soviet strongholds inside the city on Saturday—the Soviet Union's anniversary. The last German attack on the factory district was the first which failed to produce some German advance. In fact, in some places the Germans were forced to retreat. While the defenders continued to beat off attacks in the northern suburbs Marshal Timoshenko organised a night-crossing of the Volga higher up the stream, taking the Germans by surprise and drawing off considerable forces from the city. The Volga crossing remains the key to the Soviet defence in and around Stalingrad, and once again is playing a vital part in Russia's life.

DRIVE FOR OIL

Reuter's Stockholm correspondent says that the Germans are throwing in ten divisions of infantry and a large number of tanks in an effort to break down Soviet resistance in the Nalchik area, protecting the great industrial centre of Ordzhonikidze. Fresh Soviet divisions are said to have been brought up from the Southern Caucasus, and fighting is stated to be going on for the Georgian military highway where it runs down into the lower slopes of the northern foothills.

LONDON, Wednesday.—Moscow radio said to-night that the Germans had concentrated large numbers of tanks and aircraft south-east of Nalchik and were trying to advance towards the east, but all attacks were beaten off with heavy losses. North-east of Tuapse Soviet units continued to destroy small detachments and were advancing in some sectors.

SOVIET COMMUNIQUE

MOSCOW, Wednesday.—To-night's Soviet communiqué states:—"During November 4 our troops fought the enemy in the area of Stalingrad, north-east of Tuapse and south-east of Nalchik. No material changes took place on other fronts. In the area of Stalingrad heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy, more than 1,000 German officers and men being killed.

"North-west of Stalingrad our troops captured five blockhouses and one dug-in enemy tank.

"South-east of Nalchik our troops fought fierce defensive engagements with enemy tanks and infantry.

"North-east of Tuapse Soviet troops captured several enemy points of resistance."—Reuter.

WAGES AT RHINEANNA

The Government is examining the wages rates paid at Rhineanna, following a dispute involving workers at the airport. It was stated in the Dail yesterday that due regard would have to be had to the standard rate of wages and bonus orders applicable to the building and constructional workers employed by the contractors there.

GOVERNMENT AS A MONEY-MAKER

PROPOSAL IN DAIL

THE Government as a money-maker, with power to issue cash and credit on the security of the State, in order to promote agriculture and industry and to provide employment without adding to the taxpayers' burden—this was the proposition made in the Dail last night by Mr. P. Cogan (Ind., Wicklow).

It found support in principle from Mr. P. McGilligan, who suggested that this country might yet find it necessary to restrict its people in the purchase of consumer goods to a level where they could merely keep themselves alive.

Mr. Cogan envisaged a central non-profit-making body, with the interests of the community its main consideration, exercising control of money, and the fixing of prices at a staple level by a proper authority.

Progress was reported, and the House adjourned until 3 p.m. to-day.

BELFAST BRANDY APPEAL

The Belfast Recorder yesterday allowed the appeal of the Commissioners of Customs and Excise against the decision of the Resident Magistrate in dismissing charges against Desmond McGrolly, of Ormond road, Dublin, of having delivered to two publicans 50 and 505 bottles of brandy respectively without permits of import. A fine of £10 or two months' imprisonment to date from September 3 was imposed. McGrolly is serving sentence for other offences, and the Recorder said that he dated the imprisonment from September 3 so that McGrolly would not undergo further punishment.

The Recorder also heard an appeal against the decision of the magistrate in dismissing the case against the publicans. Counsel for the Crown said that a conviction would involve forfeiture of their licence. The Commissioners had agreed to accept the maximum penalty of £100 fine with fifteen guineas costs in each case. The brandy would be forfeited.

The Court sanctioned this arrangement.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND

Thirty-nine-year-old Kathy O'Gara, who lived alone at Drumiskabole, about four miles from Sligo, and had been missing from her home since last Saturday week, has been traced to Lurganboy, Manorhamilton, County Leitrim, where she was working. Her disappearance gave rise to much activity by Guards, assisted by L.S.F. and L.D.F. members, as articles of clothing, identified as her property, were found on the shore of a small lake near her home. She explained the finding of her clothes by saying that she was carrying them and, becoming tired, she threw them away.

BAN ON NORTHERN GAS BAGS

From December 1st gasbags on motor vehicles will be banned in Northern Ireland. On that date a licensing system will come into operation for those users who are on essential work. The Ministry of Home Affairs has made an Order prohibiting from that date the operation of mechanically-propelled vehicles using fuel other than petrol, benzol, naphtha, or Diesel oil, except under licence.

Limerick Programme

AN interesting programme will be submitted at Limerick this afternoon. Twelve runners have been declared for the Garryowen Steeplechase, including Ruby Loch, who won in such good style at the last Limerick meeting. She naturally has been given a good hoist in the weights, but she is a good-staying mare, and should win again. The danger to her may be Yeoman. On his Irish Cesarewitch running, Submarine should win the Limerick Plate. Selections:—

Mungret Hurdle—Greektown.
City Hurdle—Barrymore.
Greenpark Plate—H. Hartigan's selected.
Garryowen 'Chase—Ruby Loch.
Limerick Plate—Submarine.
County 'Chase—Kerry Dance.
Stand Plate—Mairetel.

Curragh Selections—2.15, Winstone; 2.45, Knight's Crest; 3.15, Benedict; 3.45, Ruby Loch; 4.15, Sword Knot; 4.45, Oakfield; 5.15, Mairetel.

Tote double on fourth and fifth races.

KERRYMAN'S TRIAL
O'NEILL IN WITNESS BOX

REMARKABLE disclosures by Maurice O'Neill, the young Kerryman, charged before the Military Court in Dublin with having fired shots at three police officers at Donnycarney on the night of October 24th, when Detective Mordaunt was killed, marked the third day of the trial yesterday.

O'Neill went into the witness-box, and declared that he was on his way to the North of Ireland, and had the gun which was found on him for training purposes.

"What were you training for," asked counsel for the prosecution. "To go to the North," replied O'Neill.

FIRING OF SHOTS

In support of his plea of not guilty, he said that while leaving the house at Holly road shots were fired, and, to escape being shot, he threw himself on the ground. He did not know that the shots were being fired by the police, and he fired back in self-defence.

"I was unaware," he said, "that the house we were leaving had been surrounded, or that I was wanted by the police on any criminal charge. I was gone about ten or twelve feet from the back gate of the house at 14 Holly road when I heard a shot from behind me. Almost immediately more shots rang out behind me. I dropped my bike, ran in towards the railing, and threw myself on the ground. A man rushed past, and shortly afterwards shooting began at the upper end of the lane in front of me. In the meantime another man rushed past, and I shouted: 'Don't shoot' or 'Stop shooting.' The firing went on, and bullets kept hopping around. Something struck me in the arm; I felt a pain and thought I was hit.

HIS ONLY MOTIVE

"I drew my gun then. I had it in the inside pocket of my inner coat. The shots were still coming, and I fired in the general direction from which they came, although I could not see anybody. I did not want to be shot without making an attempt to save my life. That was the only motive I had in shooting."

Cross-examined by Mr. J. A. McCarthy, K.C., for the State, O'Neill refused to answer several questions relating to the man who was with him, and whom he knew, he said, as John Boyle. "I don't propose to make any statement in Court regarding my friend; I won't give any information about him," he said. He declined to say where he had got a bicycle which he had brought with him to Dublin on September 1st, or to answer questions relating to No. 12 Grosvenor square, Dublin.

MANY DISCUSSIONS

Mr. McCarthy—Did you have any discussions with anybody as to what your future conduct was to be?—I had.

Did you have many discussions?—A number of them.

Was one of the discussions dealing with the detective force in the City of Dublin?—No.

You know, of course, that Detective-Sergeant O'Brien had been shot?—Yes. I saw it in the papers.

You knew that there were a number of men wanted in respect of his assassination?—Yes.

And, I take it, you knew that some, at least, of these people who were associated with you might be suspected of that assassination?—I refuse to answer that question.

In further reply, O'Neill said that leaving Holly road that night was the first time he had had the gun in his possession outside. He had it in his pocket because he was leaving for the North early the following morning, and would not be returning to Holly road. He did not know at the time whether it was fully loaded or not. He had been practising with it—practising speedy loading and unloading. He had been practising in a house. The other man had also been practising.

Mr. McCarthy—Were you practising being quick on the draw?—No. He had seen the description of the men wanted for the murder of Sergeant O'Brien, but he did not think that the man who was with him might be one of them.

RETURN TO HOUSE

Asked would he like to be caught in possession of a loaded gun and ammunition, O'Neill said: "I never meant to avoid arrest in the twenty-six counties. I would try to avoid arrest in the six counties."

When he heard the first shot on October 24 he did not think "that the law was on him," and the question of dropping his bicycle so as to make escape more easy "never entered his mind."

When he returned to the house he was asked by a Garda officer: "Why did you fire?" and replied, "Self-preservation." He did not try to climb a fence in order to escape. The volley of shots which the detective said came down the lane was not fired by him. It was quite possible that he could be seen lying on the laneway, and he did not get up until the firing stopped, because "there was a hail of lead coming up the lane."

He did not compare his friend, John Boyle, with the police notice for a wanted man. While Boyle was with him he was training in arms every evening. He refused to discuss the conversation he had with John Boyle with regard to the shooting of Detective-Sergeant O'Brien.

Mr. S. MacBride, for the defence, said that it might be that the first shot fired was fired by Detective-Officer Mordaunt, not, perhaps, at the two men in the lane, but as a warning to other officers. The only intent the accused man had was one of self-preservation. Most persons who found themselves in a position in which O'Neill found himself that night would have fired with the intention of trying to save his own life. Whoever fired the shot that killed Detective-Officer Mordaunt, it was not the accused.

"IMPS" AT WAR-TIME PEAK

CHEERFULNESS again prevailed in the London Stock Markets yesterday, rises being the general order despite profit-taking. There were several outstanding features, Railways, Gold shares, Breweries and Tobaccos being the most prominent.

In British Railways improvements were general, junior stocks putting on 5/- to 10/-, while a number of Prior Charges also gained well. The B.A.G.S. report proved a damper for Argentine Rails, and here the order was reversed, both Ordinaries and Prior Charges feeling the effect. Central Argentine were the principal sufferers.

The upward movement was pretty widespread in the Brewery group, Guinness being in front with a gain of 2/- at 116/-. Watney Def., South Africans and Distillers all had good gains. The Tobacco section derived benefit from the new co-operation arrangement between the leading manufacturers, Imperials reaching £7 for the first time since the war. "Bats" and Carreras also spurted smartly. For the rest of the Industrial market, Celanese were firm at 16/6, but Courtaulds lost the turn, while the rest of the Textile group was firm. Cable Ord. jumped to 74. Shipping issues were well supported, while Coal shares also were higher.

Oils fluctuated sharply, early profit-taking sending shares down, but a good recovery left the leaders well up on balance.

Profit-taking also took place in Kaffirs, Blyvoor fell to 40/9, after reaching the new high record of 41/9, but recovered and finally finished at 41/-. Western Holdings gained 9d. to 16/10½, while Western Reefs were better.

UNILEVER N.V.

Lever Brothers and Unilever N.V., of Rotterdam, has reported a much reduced profit for 1941, states Reuter, quoting a German News Agency report from The Hague.

There is a net profit of 3.72 million gulden, compared with 17.05 millions for the previous year. Including the amount brought forward, the Board has 13.4 million gulden at its disposal, against 21.85 millions last year. Dividends to the amount of 6.86 millions will be paid on the Pref. shares, against 8.58 millions and 6.53 millions carried forward.

The Financial News states that it is officially informed that the reduction in the "N.V." Pref. dividend payments by one-fifth has no bearing on the 1937 pooling agreement between the English and Dutch Company. The reduction follows a decree by the German occupation authorities in Holland, that all Pref. dividends must be cut by 20 p.c.

GUINNESS ORD. RISE SHARPLY

MARKETS were not quite so brisk on the Dublin Stock Exchange yesterday, but Irish Industrials continued to attract the bulk of attention, and strong support resulted in a number of firm features. Elsewhere price changes were small and featureless.

British Industrials were a shade busier, and advices reflected a good tone from the other side.

Financial Agreement Loan drooped to 109¾, but 4½ p.c. Land Bonds improved to 117, and the 4 p.c. Bonds added a fraction at 108¼. 3½ p.c. War Loan declined to 104½. Bank of Ireland Stock made headway to 333.

There was strong buying of Guinness Ord. all day, and they jumped 1/6 to 115/6, and were still in request at the finish. Distillers Ord. gained several pence at 84/3.

Great Southern Rails were on the dull side. The Ord. gave way to 23, the Pref. to 28, the Guar. 15/- to 51¼, and the Deb. dipped to 71. Great Northern Pref. hardened slightly, and the Deb. was raised to 79¾.

Dublin Transport Ord. hardened to 20/7½, and Alliance Gas Ord. to 21/-. In Drapieries, Switzer Ord. spurted 2/3 to 20/-, and the Deb. ¼ to 9¾. Pim Ord. held their recent strength.

Clondalkin Paper Ord. rose to 6/10½, and Fry Cadbury "A" Pref. made headway to 22/-, but J. Crean Ord. eased to 7/3. Irish Times 1st Pref. firmed up to 53/-, and Polikoff Pref. strengthened 1/6 to 17/-. A number of Irish Industrial Preferences were bid for, but without result.

Textiles again enjoyed support. Coats Ord. advanced to 43/3, and Courtaulds gained 1/1½ at 45/-.

£3,500,000 IN GOLD

Gold ore worth £3,500,000 had been developed by the Blyvooruitzicht Gold Mining Company, the far western Rand mine, up to June 30 last. This disclosure made in the company's annual report largely explains the recent burst of activity in the company's 4,900,000 10s. shares, which have risen from a lowest of about 24s. this year to 41s. At this price the company is capitalised at £10,000,000.

STORE CATTLE SALES

Gandy and Sons.—Large numbers, and trade quieter, due to the fact that shippers have difficulty in getting their stock shipped. Sellers were inclined to meet the trade and a reasonably good clearance was effected. Best lots of polly bullocks £36 5/- to £38 (60/- to 62/- per cwt.); best lots of horned bullocks £35 to £36 (56/- to 58/-); best lots of heifers £35 5/- to £36 (55/- to 58/-); many other lots of bullocks and heifers 54/- to 47/-; younger classes £14 to £2[illegible].

Grainger Bros.—Very heavy supplies forward. In sympathy with trade in fat market prices generally showed a slight reduction from last week. Best lots of polly bullocks in good demand, and realised from £36 10/- to £38 10/-. Horned bullocks a slower trade, and made from £34 to £35; best heifers £34 5/- to £37. Good enquiry for well-bred young stock, and an almost complete clearance was effected.

ACTION AGAINST AN HOSPITAL
JUDGE TO SUM UP TO-DAY

The evidence concluded in the action of Mrs. Winifred Davis, 40 Cumberland street, Dun Laoghaire, against the Trustees of St. Michael's Hospital, Dun Laoghaire, which had been at hearing before Mr. Justice Martin Maguire and a jury, in the High Court, Dublin, and the judge will sum up this morning. Mrs. Davis claims damages for alleged negligence in the treatment of her husband in the hospital, after he had fallen from a scaffolding at Messrs. Bolands' Bakery, Dun Laoghaire, on May 28, 1941, and in his discharge on June 3, suffering, she stated, from an undiagnosed fracture of the skull. He was re-admitted on June 7, and died the following day. The Trustees denied the alleged negligence.

Sister Pauline, sister in charge of the male surgical department of the hospital, cross-examined by Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald, K.C., for Mrs. Davis, said that when Mr. Lavelle, the visiting surgeon, went away on a short holiday, having seen Mr. Davis once, Mr. Davis came directly under the charge of the house surgeon, Dr. O'Connor, and remained under Dr. O'Connor's care until the date of his discharge on June 3.

DOCTORS' EVIDENCE

Dr. Michael O'Connor, house surgeon of the hospital, replying to Mr. Barra O Briain, K.C., for the trustees, said that he saw Mr. Davis when he was admitted to his ward. He asked him how he was and what was he complaining of, and Mr. Davis said that he was complaining of nothing; that he was all right, and saw no reason why he should be in hospital. Mr. Davis appeared to him to be quite well. He examined Mr. Davis's head and eyes the first time he saw him. There was a slight lump on the side of the head, but his eyes did not reveal anything abnormal, such as would be revealed in the case of a head injury, and he did not consider any further examination necessary, having regard to the history of the case that he got. On each occasion when he asked Mr. Davis how he was he replied that he was all right, except that on one occasion when he was out of bed he said that he was dizzy, and he attributed that to the fact that he had just got out of bed after his third or fourth day in hospital. He had understood his progress to be satisfactory.

Cross-examined by Mr. Basil McGuckin, K.C., for Mrs. Davis, he said that Mr. Davis had been discharged without any authority from him. So far as he knew he did not get a report from Dr. Doce that the patient had been complaining of headache and dizziness in the mornings.

Dr. James C. Doce stated in reply to Mr. Barra O Briain that he took up a position in the hospital for the purpose of gaining experience, and he understood that he was to do the work of a resident student. When Mr. Davis was admitted to the hospital he was not, he said, anxious to be kept there. Three days later he took the history of his case from him. Mr. Davis complained of headache, but his pulse was good, and he could not see anything very much wrong with his head. He had a glance at Mr. Davis before he went away, but did not examine him. When Sister Pauline asked him was Mr. Davis fit to leave the hospital he told her that in his opinion he was.

WOMAN DESCRIBES ATTACK

On a bail of £500 the case was adjourned until Saturday next, before District Justice Lennon, in Dublin yesterday, in which Michael Butler (28), no business, Lamb's Court, James's street, pleaded not guilty to a charge of having, on October 17th, 1942, at Pim street, Dublin, robbed with violence from Miss Mary O'Connor, 84 Drimnagh road, a shopping bag containing £30, a pair of lady's gloves value for 10/11, 14lb. of sugar, 1lb. of butter and 100 food vouchers, value £9.

Evidence was given by Miss O'Connor that on the night in question, after closing the dairy and grocery shop which she ran at 80 James's street, South, she was passing, with Miss Julia Weir, along Pim street when a man came behind her. He seized her bag, and they struggled for a few minutes, while Miss Weir was knocking at doorways and screaming. Witness was thrown on the ground and received a kick in the face. During this time another man was standing on the footpath looking on. Finally the shopping bag was wrenched from her hand, and the man who had attacked her ran away with it, followed by the other man. She had identified the defendant at an identification parade at the Bridewell as the man who had robbed her.

SALE OF WATERED WHISKEY

At Kilmainham yesterday, before District Justice Reddin, Patrick Betton, T.D., publican, Santry, Co. Dublin, was fined £20, with £3 3/- costs, the conviction to be recorded on the licence, for having on September 18 last sold six glasses of whiskey, which on analysis was shown to have an alcoholic strength of 30.24 degrees under proof as against the minimum strength of whiskey fixed by the regulations, 25 degrees under proof.

Guard Blundell, Inspector of Food and Drugs, said that he purchased the whiskey from Michael Maher, the manager of Mr. Betton's premises. The analysis showed 7.4 excess of water.

Notice of appeal was given.

PRIEST GETS £1,650 DAMAGES

A High Court jury yesterday assessed damages at £1,650, for which Mr. Justice Hanna gave judgment, with costs, in favour of the Rev. Maurice Dowling, S.J., Mungret College, Limerick, in his action against the Great Southern Railways Company, claiming damages for injuries suffered in a collision involving a 'bus in which he was a passenger, and a motor car, at Red Cow, Clondalkin, on August 18, 1941.

LORD CASTLETOWN'S WILL QUESTION OF BEQUEST

The hearing of a construction summons in relation to the will of Lord Castletown, of Upper Ossory, late of Granston Manor, Ballacolla, Leix, was begun before Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy in the High Court, Dublin, yesterday, and adjourned. The Court was asked whether the bequest of Lord Castletown's Ossory estate to his nephew, the late Colonel Geoffrey FitzPatrick (who, in compliance with the will, had changed his name from Skeffington-Smyth), took effect, or failed by forfeiture for non-compliance with conditions.

Mr. Richard Cherry, for the executors, said that while Lord Castletown had been absolute owner of the lands, he was only tenant for life of Granston Manor, which descended to Colonel Randall Skeffington-Smyth, a brother of Geoffrey, but he had wished that Geoffrey should come to an arrangement with his brother under which he would be able to reside in Granston Manor for at least three months each year for six years from Lord Castletown's death.

Geoffrey, until his own death, suffered serious ill-health, which prevented him from staying in the manor throughout the specified periods. If the conditions did not take effect there was a gift over of the income, which was to be distributed by the parish priest of Clough and the rector of Killermogh among the poor of the parishes of Ballacolla, Castletown, Donoughmore and Errill.

PUBLIC MISCHIEF CHARGE
MAN FOUND GUILTY

After a trial lasting three days, at the Circuit Criminal Court, Green street, before Judge Shannon and a jury, Anthony Joseph Moran (41), insurance collector, St. Malachi's road, Glasnevin, was found guilty of the charge of having falsely stated that on the 16th December, 1941, he had been assaulted and robbed by two men at his home, thereby creating a public mischief by causing members of the Civic Guard to devote their time and services on investigation. He was also found guilty of fraudulently embezzling £38 odd, the property of the Irish Assurance Company, by whom he was employed.

The jury added a strong recommendation for mercy because of his previous good record, and on account of his three young children. He was put back.

PROBATION ACT APPLIED

Christopher Dobson (52), of Templanstown, Castlepollard, Co. Westmeath, was found guilty by the Special Criminal Court yesterday of intimidating James McDermott from holding a ceilidhe at Foyer Hall, Fower, Co. Westmeath, on October 11th last. Dobson, it was stated, had told McDermott that no dance should be held for a month because of the death of a man named Patrick Dermody, who had been shot, and had been buried in the churchyard close to the hall. The defendant, who pleaded that he had had drink taken and did not intend to threaten McDermott, was given the benefit of the Probation Act.

DISTILLERY LOSE LEAD IN CUP SEMI-FINAL

DISTILLERY ...... 1 DRUMCONDRA 1

Distillery are still battling away against their higher-grade opponents in the Leinster Senior Cup, but their 1-1 draw with Drumcondra in the second semi-final yesterday at Shelbourne Park was a very disappointing game. Starting with a man short—Scully had to play in goal until Hannaway arrived ten minutes after the kick-off—Distillery lacked their usual fire; but even so, they took the lead six minutes after the interval, and looked like winners until twenty minutes from the end, when Drumcondra got the equaliser.

Distillery were not at full strength, Hannaway, the goalkeeper, and Eglington being reserves, but while the former did well, Eglington was a weak link on the left wing, and could not get the ball across, while Scully, moved from his usual berth on the left to outside-right, was all at sea there. Drumcondra were also poorly served by their wings, Ward and Byrne. Daly for Drumcondra, and Radford for Distillery, were the only attackers to make much impression. Else was McNamara's master, and throughout the game the Distillery centre-half gave a splendid display. The wing-halves and full-backs on each side were quite sound, but McGlynn made one bad slip for Drumcondra which might have cost them the match.

Byrne and McNamara missed the easiest of chances for Drumcondra in a scoreless first half, and a combination of quickness on the part of Cullen and a slip in defence gave Radford a clear chance, which he took with a ground shot shortly after the interval. When McGlynn misjudged the bounce of the ball, Cullen missed very badly, and Distillery had lost a glorious chance of an almost certain win.

The equaliser came from a tremendous drive by Dyer, who sent a free kick just outside the penalty area into the top of the net. There was no real prospect of a decider in the closing minutes.

DUBLIN G.A.A. FINAL ON SUNDAY

(By PAT O.)

Civil Service footballers freely agreed to a postponement of their league final with St. Mary's (Saggart) when it was found that some of the south county team were on the injured list after the Cavan game. I learn that St. Mary's will be at full strength next Sunday, and a big muster of Gaelic enthusiasts at headquarters, at 3.30, is certain. All Ireland success has brought a wave of interest to Dublin football, and the unbeaten Civil Service team have no delusions about the strength of Peter O'Reilly's fifteen, from Saggart.

Civil Service's progress has been steady rather than brilliant; efficient organisation and successful inter-department games helped to build up a strong and fast team, but one that still lacks experience close to goal. Civil Service backs are long-kicking, steady footballers; Murphy, Moore, O'Shea and McCarthy make a powerful framework; M. Falvey and B. Murphy will distribute a lot of play to their forwards, who have pace without steadiness. If Tansey, Maher and Quigley hit their best form Civil Service will win.

I like the uniform teamwork of St. Mary's, for whom the younger Fitzgerald is playing tip-top football in club games. With Gerry Fitzgerald, Pat Bermingham and Pat O'Connor in attack, St. Mary's are the shrewder forwards. Civil Service have more pace; Saggart the more mature football skill. I look forward to a good final, which will throw some light on the new league.

Veterinary College Gaelic Clubs are lucky to secure a pitch so near to their studies. Judging by their trial game against McDermotts we can forecast a bright future for the Ballsbridge side. Smith, Buckarl, Mularkey, Canavan, Dolan, and Buckley were always a menace to Sean McDermotts' defence. Vets meet a useful side in Westerns for their first league game. With Tom Markham in, I think Veterinary College will win many games in the league. Old rivals in Geraldines and Ben Edars meet at Parnell Park, whilst Kickhams and U.C.D. have a promising game at Belfield.

Grocer teams have been a pillar of Gaelic games in Dublin since the inception of the G.A.A. The earlier opening hours on Sundays threaten the activities of all grocer clubs, like Faughs, Banba, Westerns, Young Irelands, and Commercials. The Minister met a G.A.A. deputation last week, and Mr. S. Brennan, Chairman, Dublin County Board, announced that an amending motion will be accepted when the bill is being introduced.

IRISH HOCKEY UNION

The grant made by the I.H.U. to Munster and Connaught was for travelling expenses in connection with the inter-provincials. To lessen travelling as much as possible, it was decided to ask Munster if they would agree to play Leinster in Dublin on February 20th, instead of Leinster travelling to Cork or Limerick on January 9th. Munster will be in Dublin on February 19th to play Ulster.

NO COURSING AT BLACKBOG.—Blackbog, Co. Kilkenny, coursing meeting, fixed for to-day, has been abandoned owing to insufficient entries.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY GAME FOR CHARITY

The Leinster Ladies' Hockey Union are staging an interesting charity match in aid of the St. Vincent de Paul Society next Saturday, Muckross meeting a Rest of Leinster XI. at Rathmines at 3.0. Holders of the Senior Cup, Muckross are a consistently good side, and they are undefeated so far this season. The Rest team looks to be strong and well-balanced, and it includes five members of the Pembroke Wanderers team which won the Senior League last season.

The team is as follows:—Misses Eccles (Old College); S. Brennan (Loreto Past), Conroy (Pembroke Wanderers); Fry (Old College), Whiteside (Pembroke Wanderers), Meet (Maids); C. McCarroll (Pembroke Wanderers), Luizzi (Loreto Past), Mrs. Whelan (Pembroke Wanderers), Misses Quinn (Newcomes), Louth (Pembroke Wanderers).

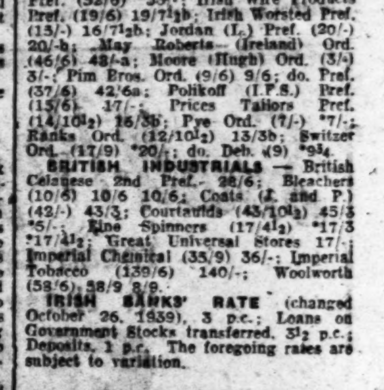

Next Saturday is a closed date for matches or practices by affiliated clubs and schools.

Late entries, accompanied by an additional fee, will be accepted for the Senior Cup and various Badge competitions up to to-morrow morning, on which day the draws will take place.

Kilkenny Hounds—Change of Meet—Hounds will meet at Windgap on Wednesday, November 11th, instead of Thursday, 12th, as previously arranged.

Smokers' 'Fur'

How to detect it—How to prevent it.

Try this now. Run your tongue round your mouth—do you notice it ... a rough woolly feeling. Smokers' fur has got a hold, and is staining your teeth. But don't worry, you can stop this fur from ruining the look of your teeth.

Dentists know smokers' fur is caused by excess acid in the mouth. Kill the acid and you shift the fur. What is the scientific way to destroy mouth acid? 12,000 dentists say 'Milk of Magnesia' brand antacid is the most effective antacid known. They recommend smokers to use the toothpaste containing 'Milk of Magnesia' — the only toothpaste containing it — Phillips' Dental Magnesia.

Commence fighting mouth acid tonight. Get a tube of Phillips' Dental Magnesia and clean your teeth with it each night and morning. Then you'll feel the difference; no more morning mouth; no more stale breath. Instead you'll have teeth which look clean, feel clean, are clean; a sweet mouth to give new zest to smoking. A mouth that will say Good morning! and mean it.

7½d., 1/1 & 1/10½d. Sold everywhere.

AN ROINN TALMHAIDHEACHTA (Department of Agriculture.) EMERGENCY POWERS (RESTRICTION ON SALE & MOVEMENT OF CREAMERY BUTTER) ORDER, 1942.

The above-named Order was made by the Minister for Agriculture on 4th November, 1942, for the purpose of ensuring that the supply of creamery butter available from now until the end of April next will be distributed as evenly as possible throughout the country. Under the Order no creamery may, without the Minister's consent, sell butter except to persons who were regular customers of the creamery during the three months ended 30th September last. Furthermore, the quantity which may be so sold in any month shall not exceed two-thirds of the average monthly quantity bought by the customer during the period mentioned. The latter restriction does not apply in certain cases, including hospitals and sanatoria.

The Order also provides that no person shall remove from cold storage, save in accordance with a direction given by the Minister, any creamery butter stored under an arrangement sanctioned by the Minister.

The Order does not apply to sales to the Butter Marketing Committee.

Copies of the Order will be placed on sale without delay, and will be purchasable from the Government Publications Sale Office, 3-4 College street, Dublin; or from any bookseller.

Suspense in the Desert

Yesterday's bulletins indicate that the British Eighth Army has been able to exploit its initial successes with some effect. General Montgomery, who commands the Eighth Army under the supreme command of General Harold Alexander, is faced with a formidable task. Admittedly he has numerical superiority, in respect not only of man-power, but also of tanks and aircraft; but he is opposed by one of the outstanding military figures of the present war in the person of Field-Marshal Erwin Rommel, and the fact that he has been forced to make a frontal attack on a heavily defended line of only some forty miles in breadth has imposed on the British commander a problem which will not be easy to solve. During the last twelve days the Eighth Army has been hammering away at Marshal Rommel's lines. It has had the support of an artillery barrage such as never has been known in the Western desert; and, although the German-Italian forces have fought with dogged courage, it seems now as if they are being overwhelmed. According to the British communiqué, Marshal Rommel's troops are in full flight all along the line. Cairo reports that German-Italian columns are in "disorderly retreat" towards the West. Nine thousand prisoners have been taken. Two hundred and sixty-nine tanks have been destroyed; two hundred and seventy guns have been either captured or put out of action, and more than six hundred aircraft of various kinds have been brought down. Among the casualties are General von Stumme, who was in charge of the German-Italian forces while Marshal Rommel was in Germany some little time ago; and General Ritter von Thoma, the immediate commander of the Afrikakorps. Naturally, reports tend to be confused at the present stage of the battle; but there seems to be little doubt that the British have scored tactical successes which have compelled Marshal Rommel to withdraw from his advanced positions. More than that, for the moment, it would be unwise to say. The Eighth Army is reported to be following up its tactical successes; and it is possible that within the next few days General Montgomery's armoured divisions may be able to deploy in the open desert. On the other hand, Marshal Rommel is a wary soldier, who has little to learn from anybody in the matter of desert warfare. There is all the difference in the world between a strategical retreat and a forced withdrawal. As we write, it is impossible to decide whether Marshal Rommel is shortening his communication lines on the principle of reculer pour mieux sauter, or is falling back, willy-nilly, before the furious onslaughts of the Eighth Army. The truth will be known in a few days. Manifestly, from the British point of view, General Montgomery's offensive is an operation of the highest importance. Its object is to annihilate the German Afrikakorps. If it succeeds, the British will gain control of the North African coast, and eventually of the Central Mediterranean. Such a development might have an early effect on the position of Italy as Germany's principal ally. If it fails, and a stalemate results, a heavy blow will have been dealt to Britain's prestige throughout the Middle East. In these circumstances, the utmost caution ought to be observed by everybody concerned. Initial successes in the past often have given a totally false impression of the military situation; and it must be remembered that the major clash between the rival tank divisions has not yet taken place.

Racing in Ireland

With yesterday's meeting at Newmarket, racing in England closed for this year. The British Government refused to permit racing under National Hunt Rules, and for the next four months, till the flat-racing season opens, alternative forms of amusement must be sought by those who found an outlet for their sporting enthusiasm and their superfluous cash in following the fortunes of their equine favourites. In this country there is no strict division of the racing year into flat and jumping seasons. In the winter and early spring, it is true, steeplechasing figures more frequently in race programmes than during the summer and autumn, but so great is the spell of the "jumper" in this island that virtually throughout the year races for hurdlers and 'chasers are held. The breeding and development of hunters and 'chasers, which are, of course, "sisters under the skin," has long been an Irish specialty. In National Hunt racing Ireland definitely occupies a leading place. In the circumstances it is natural that no attempt should be made in this country to restrict the year's 'chasing to a mere four months. While the Englishman gets, or, rather, got, a great deal of pleasure and excitement out of events like the Grand National, to him the real racing season begins and ends with the flat, so that the ban upon steeplechasing has created only a moderate amount of opposition. Throughout the year Parliamentary critics have been drawing comparisons between the amount of fodder necessary to maintain a 'chaser and the number of hens which could be fed with a corresponding ration of oats, and, no doubt, it was as a sop to critics of this type that the British Government imposed its ban. With no racing during the winter the war-worker may have one fewer temptation to take his interest from his job and his extra pounds and shillings from War Savings Certificates, while a few stones of oats may be saved on the horses taken out of training. It is difficult, however, for the man who made his money by running or training 'chasers to take the ban philosophically, no matter how great his patriotism. He wants to know what he is going to do with his employés, his stables and his horses. Some of the richer owners hope that at least a portion of their big strings of horses will be permitted to run in Ireland. It is said that already a number of animals have been shipped to this country in anticipation of Irish racing being opened to them, and there have been much talk, much rumour and much speculation upon the possibilities of our own ban upon English-trained horses being removed. The Government may take the view that it would be a good thing to have more 'chasers competing in Irish events, or it may take the view that fodder is scarce enough without importing English horses to help in eating it. In any event, it is for the Government to decide whether the ban shall remain or not.

Pantomime

London is likely to experience a remarkable dearth of pantomimes this Christmas. By this time of year rehearsals should be well under way for any that are to take place; yet so far only one—"Mother Goose"—has been definitely arranged, and it is unlikely that there will be more than two in all. The difficulty, it appears, is a shortage of suitable theatres. No doubt, a number of the principal houses have been put out of commission as a result of bomb damage. As for the others, the present popularity of theatrical entertainment means that they are all engaged—in many cases with successful shows which the promoters would be very ill-advised to close, even temporarily, in the middle of a profitable run. One wonders how Londoners will take this shortage of their customary Christmas entertainment. They have always, to some extent, been traditionalists in these matters, and the effect of war conditions is rather to strengthen than to break down this prejudice. At the present time there are running in London two of the most familiar musical shows of our time—"The Belle of New York" and "Lilac Time." Earlier in this year "Rose Marie" and "The Maid of the Mountains" were being performed. All these shows—which scarcely any amateur musical society has failed to present during its career—are as well known in their own sphere as "Charley's Aunt" and "The Ghost Train" among straight plays; yet the Londoner, apparently, is still prepared to pay to see them. The old style of entertainment holds, and even increases, its popularity under the stress of war. It is to be feared that the audiences, much as they may regret the absence of the usual selection of pantomimes, will not be hit so hardly as some of the members of the theatrical profession. A few years ago, when a production of "Peter Pan" was an inevitable incident of every London Christmas, there existed a certain number of professional Pirates. These men, who appeared to go into some equivalent of hibernation in the summer months, were called forth by the agency of a postcard at the beginning of every year's rehearsals — made their appearance, took their parts, and vanished again when the show closed. This year there will be poor pickings for the professional Chinese Coolies, Savages, and Forty Thieves of the pantomime world. For them "Mother Goose" will lay no golden eggs.

CONSERVATORS OF FISHERIES

A complaint that the paper mills at Clondalkin and Killeen were polluting the river Camac and the Liffey was mentioned in a report from Mr. J. Dowling, head waterkeeper, at a meeting of the Dublin Conservators of Fisheries yesterday.

The Board commended to the Chief Commissioner Sergeant James Kelly and Garda John McMahon, for their vigilance in securing the conviction of offenders against the Fishery Laws.

It was announced that Mr. C. W. Grove-White, Chemical Laboratory, Trinity College, has resigned from the Board.

A resolution was passed asking a conference of Irish conservators of fisheries to consider the control price of salmon exported from Eire during next season.

ST. GEORGE'S SCHOOLS

Extensive renovations and improvements in St. George's Parochial Schools, Lower Sherrard street, Dublin, were dedicated last Saturday night by the Rev. Canon E. H. F. Campbell, Rector. Mr. George Freeman, Honorary Secretary of the Select Vestry, reviewed the history of the school, and expressed the thanks of the parish to the Department of Education and the Board of Works for their kindness in making a substantial grant towards the cost of the repairs. After a short concert given by the pupils, under the Principal, Miss Whelan, and the assistant teacher, Mrs. Philips, the parishioners were shown round the schools. Those present included members of the Select Vestry and the Headmaster of Mountjoy School.

SARGEANT—CONNOR. — The wedding took place yesterday at Sandymount Presbyterian Church of Mr. James L. Sargeant, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sargeant, 38A Park avenue, Sandymount, and Miss Norah S. Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Connor, Balmoral Lodge, Castle avenue, Clontarf. The Rev. John Scott Crockett officiated. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. D. I. Connor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Helen Grey. Mr. Ivan B. Sargeant was best man, and the usher in the church was Mr. G. C. Erskine. After a reception held at Balmoral Lodge, Clontarf, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Sargeant left for the North of Ireland.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

It is now just seven weeks from Christmas Day, but not too early to post Christmas cards and gifts to friends abroad, if they are to receive them in time. Next week stationery shops will open up their store of Christmas cards and calendars. At the moment, however, they have only a limited number on sale.

Our reporter, shown over the stock of a prominent Dublin firm, saw Christmas cards of every kind, size and design. He noticed an unusual number of Irish designs among them, larger than those of any previous year. There is a slight increase in some of the varieties. The manager said that he expected this year's sale to exceed that of any previous year.

OLD HALLITES' UNION

The annual dinner of the Old Hallites' Union was held on Monday last at The Hall, Monkstown (by kind permission of Miss Vaughan). The general meeting, after the dinner, was presided over by Mrs. Donovan (Vice-President), in the absence of the President, Mrs. Rush. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Conyngham; vice-president, Mrs. T. Donovan; hon. secretary, Miss Olga Vaughan; assistant secretary, Miss P. Matheson. Committee: Mrs. Prentice, Mrs. Archer, Miss P. Conyngham, Miss E. Welsby and Miss A. Stevenson. A very enjoyable entertainment followed the meeting.

FRENCH SOCIETY

M. Chuvet Duhamel, Secretary to the French Legation, spoke on "Why we love animals," at a Dublin French Society debate at 16 St. Stephen's Green yesterday.

THE GIBBON AND THE GLASSES

MINNIE IN DISGRACE

By Our Animal Reporter.

Minnie has been up to her tricks again. The charge reads: "Stealing and wilfully damaging a pair of spectacles, the property of Mr. R. J. P. Mortished, at the Monkey House, Zoological Gardens, on October 4th last." The defendant said nothing when charged, and has not since referred to the matter.

This spectacle-stealing act is old stuff to Minnie, the Black Gibbon, who evidently resents being stared at, and likes to plunge as many visitors as possible back into their myopia or astigmatism.

Resting after his recent series of lectures, Mr. Mortished yesterday decided to see the animals in the "Zoo." Visiting the Monkey House first, he was saying a cheery word to Minnie when he, unwarily, went too close to the wire. Whisk went his spectacles into the cage, and a moment later they were on Minnie's nose. When the owner objected, Minnie removed the glasses and systematically broke them to pieces. Fortunately, the lenses were saved, but not so the expensive Genevese frame. Mr. Mortished hopes to see the animals some other day.

Minnie is now in disgrace, and a notice drawing attention to her optical illusions is to be placed outside her cage.

FUNERALS

MR. E. A. MARGETSON

After Service at St. Peter's Church, Aungier street, Dublin, yesterday, the funeral of Mr. Edward A. Margetson, solicitor, took place to Mount Jerome Cemetery. The Service was conducted by the Archdeacon of Dublin (the Venerable E. G. Sullivan), the Rev. R. H. Dowse, Rector, and the Rev. J. R. M. Crooks, Curate, who also officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners were: Mrs. M. Margetson (widow), W. and R. Margetson (brothers), Miss Margetson, Mrs. A. E. Belford (sisters); A. E. Belford (brother-in-law), Mrs. R. A. Margetson, Mrs. W. Margetson (sisters-in-law); G. Hamley (cousin), S. Belford and D. and T. Margetson (nephews), and Gordon M. Greene. There was a large attendance of friends and of the legal and other professions.

LONDON LETTER

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

WHAT is probably the oldest working typewriter in existence is owned by Worthing's head librarian, who is glad to use it at a time when typewriters are impossible to obtain. Made in 1884, it measures only about fifteen inches long and is operated by turning a knob on the right. This makes a little indicator take its position over the paper while pressure downwards prints the letter. Another key operates the sideways movement of the machine.

Praise for Sweden

Extracts from an appreciative article on Sweden by Professor Alfred O'Rahilly are given in to-day's issue of Svenska Dagbladet, Sweden's most important Conservative organ. He is quoted as stating that, undeterred by the fact that the majority party in Sweden call themselves Social Democrats, he finds himself unable to feel hostile to an administration which controls money and credit, opposes extremes of left and right in politics, uses to the full the national resources, sponsors the go-ahead co-operative movement, alleviates unemployment by public works, and fosters the small saver and the small business.

Tuberculosis

Although the number of deaths from tuberculosis in Wales has been halved during the last thirty years, many more patients than can be accommodated there are anxious to have hospital treatment. The problem is not altogether one of accommodation, for the hospitals and sanatoria of Wales are short of a hundred nurses and a hundred domestic servants, and have to turn away patients on this account. The Minister for Health, opening a new hospital at Maesgwernen, Swansea, yesterday, emphasised that in 1942 the problem is neither medical talent, equipment nor buildings, but simply one of staffing. He appealed to two hundred Welsh women to volunteer for these hospitals within three days.

Land Girls

A threshing scheme sponsored by the Wiltshire County Agricultural Committee is proving a great success. Four members of the Women's Land Army are in charge of each set of threshing tackle. The proprietors of the machine do not have any responsibility for paying them; this is the farmer's liability, and immediately the girls start the machines at eight o'clock they come under his orders, and are paid 9s. each a day, or 6s. a half day. They are insured against accidents by the County Committee, which provides them with overalls, goggles and dust caps.

National Register

The Registrar-General is a civil servant who rarely comes into the public eye. He has, however, been responsible for an immense amount of organisation, which has impinged, especially since the war, on every household in Great Britain. Behind the National Register Scheme is the brain of this soft-voiced man, who has been Registrar-General for twenty-one years. Twenty-nine years ago he had a big hand in carrying out the National Health Insurance scheme, and in the last war he was lent to the Ministry of Food and the National Service Ministry during 1917-18.

Fingerprints

The theory that fingerprints are a clue to character as well as to identity has recently been advanced. People with the loop type are held to be capable of a very high degree of mental and emotional elasticity, and are responsive, versatile, assimilative. Their weakness is lack of concentration, which destroys individual efficiency. Even more sensitive are people with tented arch prints. They are nervous, appreciative of art and music, idealistic. The whorl type have independence of thought and action, think much and talk little. People with the composite print are successful in business and good handymen, but difficult to live with.

AN IRISHMAN'S DIARY

The Racing Commission

No publicity is to be given to the sittings of the Irish Turf Club's Commission on Racing until it chooses to issue a report. Still, I don't think that any harm will be done by recounting the experiences of a colleague who gave evidence in the Shelbourne Hotel this week.

He was one of five racing journalists who were examined at intervals of roughly thirty minutes. Like everyone else who has told me about their experiences before the Commission, he was impressed with the able chairmanship of Lord Adare, who treats witnesses as though they were conferring a great favour by giving evidence.

The chairman sits at the head of a table, the other members of the Commission along one side of it, and the witness to the left of the table, facing Lord Adare and with the other members on his right. Behind him is the official shorthand writer.

After a preliminary canter, during which the witness is asked questions bearing on the evidence given previously, and finds time to make himself comfortable, he is invited to make suggestions of his own, and having made these he is asked a few questions by the members of the Commission, and that ends it. Whether all witnesses had as smooth a passage as my colleagues I cannot say, but he thought that he could not have been much use, his suggestions created so little in the way of cross-examination.

Green Tomatoes

Tomatoes have figured frequently in my domestic conversations in the last few weeks, and now tomatoes in various forms are figuring frequently in my meals.

Last year, out of twelve tomato plants, grown against a garden wall, I had five or six tomatoes a day for six weeks or more. This year I decided to grow tomatoes on a bigger scale and bought twenty-four plants, which I treated with great care and fed regularly with some sort of special fertiliser.

The plants flourished. My urchin used to count the tomatoes till they numbered many more than three hundred. Alas! At the time when the sun should have been shining, turning the green fruit (or vegetable) to red, the sun was doing nothing of the sort, and at the beginning of October I found myself with an immense stock of green tomatoes.

Using Them

All the gardening books advised that, if the green tomatoes were placed in a drawer or box, they should turn red, but last year I found that they turned rotten as well as red. A neighbour told me that she cut complete sprays, or branches, off her tomato plants and hung them around her house, where the fruit (or vegetable, once again) eventually became as succulent as any to be bought in July or August.

I tried the spray business. It was but a partial success. Some of the tomatoes ripened; some got soft in an unhealthy way; some turned brown.

With the greater part of my green tomatoes, however, the excellent lady who manages my culinary affairs worked wonders. She made chutney. It was first-class. She made green tomato jam. That was something entirely strange to my palate; but if anyone has doubts about the taste of green tomato jam I can assure him that it is excellent.

Next week, with the assistance of some fruit (or vegetables) which have ripened to red in the window-frames, tomato ketchup, I am told, is to be produced on the kitchen stove. Altogether I have got good value from my twenty-four plants, notwithstanding the sun's remissness.

But it was well that we had saved on our sugar ration, for a lot of sugar figured in the recipes.

The Rasher

The following conversation, in which two youths and two girls were engaged, was overheard in a Blackrock tram on Monday night:—

1st Youth: "We're going out to our cottage this week-end."

1st Girl: "What about inviting us? We could cook for you."

2nd Youth: "We get on quite well with the cooking. Rashers and eggs for breakfast, dinner and tea."

2nd Girl: "Rashers and eggs! In our house we get three rashers a week. There isn't any left after Sunday morning's breakfast."

1st Youth: "Oh, we have plenty of them."

Where does he get them?

NEWS IN BRIEF

Farmers to Contest Waterford.—Denis Heskin, Glencairn, Lismore, former Chairman, Waterford County Council, and John Norris, Kilballyquilty, have been selected by a Farmers' Convention to contest Waterford constituency in the event of a general election.

£55 Fine at Dundalk.—Pleading guilty at Dundalk to selling half a pound of tea at 16/- per lb., Michael McDonnell, Bridge street, Dundalk, was fined £50 by District Justice Goff, and £5, in addition, for selling to an unregistered customer.

Salmon Nets in Demand.—People were paying any price for salmon nets at the moment, as they will be hard to secure in 1943, said Mr. B. J. Newcombe at a meeting of the Dublin Conservators of Fisheries yesterday. The board issued 77 licences for salmon rods during the past year.

Carlton Features.—The principal attraction at the Carlton, beginning to-morrow, is "The Man Who Returned to Life," the drama of a man faced with the problem of surrendering to the law to save an innocent man, who has been convicted of his "murder." The supporting film is a comedy.

Friday's Garda Dance.—What promises to be one of the biggest dances of the year is being organised by the Gardai in the Recreation Hall at the Depot, Phoenix Park, on Friday next. The dance is being held in aid of the Garda Benevolent Society, and a special committee drawn from Garda Headquarters and the Depot is in charge of the arrangements.

£25 Fine for Overcharge.—A fine of £25 for selling two ounces of tea at 6d. which was in excess of the controlled price of 3/4 a lb. at the time of the sale was imposed by District Justice Molony in Dublin yesterday on Patrick Poole, Stephen's place, Lower Mount street, Dublin.

Timber Under Weight.—At Kilmainham yesterday, before District Justice Reddin, Wm. Byrne, Clonee, Co. Meath, was sentenced to one month's imprisonment, with hard labour, for selling what purported to be a ton of timber blocks, which weighed less than 7½ cwt. Notice of appeal was given.

Limerick County Council Accountant.—Mr. T. F. Breo, B.Comm., C.A., has been recommended by the Local Appointments Commissioners for the position of Accountant to Limerick County Council. He is at present Acting Secretary to Carlow County Council, and was Accountant to Kildare B.O.H. from 1940 to 1942. The new position carries a salary of £350, rising to £500 per annum.

Irish Lights Workers' Wages Claim.—The Wages Advisory Tribunal, sitting in Dublin yesterday, heard an application in respect of the different grades of workers employed by the Commissioners of Irish Lights in the area of Dun Laoghaire for a standard wages order. Mr. A. Nolan represented the employees and Mr. W. J. Whelan the employers. Mr. W. McMullen appeared for the Irish Transport Workers' Union. Mr. J. Connolly, K.C., presided.

Against County Management.—The motion, "That this House rejects the principle of the County Management Act," was carried in Blackrock Literary and Debating Society, only seven members voting in the negative. The motion was proposed by Mr. L. J. Duffy, who was supported by Messrs. S. V. Kirkpatrick, Declan O'Hegarty and James Cawley. Mr. M. J. O'Rourke, chairman of Dun Laoghaire Borough Council, led the opposition, and was supported by Messrs. Murray McDonnell and R. O Ruadhaigh. Mr. Eamonn Coogan presided.

TRIBUTE TO REV. R. C. ELLIOTT

The Rev. R. C. Elliott, former Presbyterian minister at Strabane, wrote to Strabane Technical School Committee resigning from membership on his appointment to Abbey Presbyterian Church, Dublin. Mr. Elliott's letter, addressed to Mr. T. J. Carroll, as Secretary of the Technical School Committee, conveyed his very best wishes for the continued success of the Technical School, which owed so much to Mr. Carroll's indefatigable labours. The Rev. T. J. Agnew, P.P., Strabane, and Mr. Andrew Gallagher, D.L., expressed their regret at the loss of the Rev. R. C. Elliott by the Committee of Management of the school, and stated that he had proved an excellent member.

R.D.S. RECITAL

Mr. Harry Isaacs, Mr. Leonard Hirsch and Miss Norino Semino are the artists composing the Harry Isaacs trio who will play before the Royal Dublin Society next Monday. This pianoforte trio made its debut at the National Gallery, London, where it was an outstanding success, and since then it has played at concerts in many parts of England.

On the following Friday the Rev. F. M. Browne, S.J., will give a popular afternoon lecture, entitled "Here and There in County Donegal." In addition to his powers as a lecturer, he is a skilled photographer, and will illustrate his lecture with slides of this most lovely county.

A SOCIAL REFORMER

A Service will be held in St. Mary's Parish Church, Mary street, Dublin, to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, to commemorate the work of the Rev. Singleton Harpur, a former curate of the parish, who was a pioneer of social reform, and in 1792 established the Association for Discountenancing Vice and Promoting Christian Knowledge. He was an advocate of enlightened temperance legislation.

LATE VEN. A. D. MOORE

A resolution of sympathy with the relatives of the late Venerable A. D. Moore, Archdeacon of Glendalough, was passed at a special meeting of the Joint Diocesan Councils of Dublin, Glendalough and Kildare, held yesterday. The Archbishop of Dublin (Most Rev. Dr. Barton) presided.

COUGH SPASMS following BRONCHITIS

DO-DO WOULD HAVE SAVED HIM HUNDREDS OF POUNDS

Do you suffer from violent coughing spasms or bronchitis? If so, read this letter from Mr. H.R., of Crumpsall, Manchester, dated Feb. 15th, 1940:

"For a long time I suffered with a severe cough spasm, a legacy of bronchitis. It was worse when I got warm in bed, or just when I got up. I had received medical treatment for it, but it remained as nasty as ever. I had stopped smoking, and was on a severe diet. I read of your Do-Do Tablets, and sent for them, but I tell you frankly I fully expected it to be a waste of time.

"After the first one, I felt a tremendous relief, and after the second one, I spent the first uninterrupted night for nearly six months. Now I can breathe freely, without a whistle or a cough. ... I wish I had known of your Tablets three years ago. They would have saved me hundreds of pounds."

The same Do-Do (brand) Asthma Tablets which gave Mr. H.R. such instant relief are sold by Qualified Chemists everywhere. Get a 1s. 3d. packet (7 full doses) today! Larger size for economy: 3s. 3d. (over 4 times the 1s. 3d. size.)

KILL ACID AND END CONSTIPATION

When your stomach is full of excess acid it simply cannot digest your food. Every mouthful sours—your whole meal lies in your stomach a fermenting, lumpy mass. You get wind, nausea, heartburn—CONSTIPATION. Constipation imprisons the poisonous and waste matter inside your bowels, soaks your whole system with acid and starts the vicious circle of torture all over again.

But you can break free if, first, you get rid of the acid.

For years doctors have been recommending the safe brand of antacid 'Milk of Magnesia' as a laxative because it has a double action. The acid in the system is killed. More important still, the bowel is gently relaxed and both cause and effect of constipation move gently out of the system. With the bowels regular and the stomach free from acid, stomach, liver, and bowels have a chance to do their job.

So remember that constipation and bad digestion are both due to excess acid. As soon as there is the slightest hint of too much acid, take a spoonful of 'Milk of Magnesia.' Do it for several days and watch how appetite improves, how much more regular you are. And you will wonder how anything so bland and gentle can be so promptly effective. 'Milk of Magnesia' is the trade mark of Phillips' preparation of Magnesia. There is nothing else like it. Try it to-day: you'll be delighted. Obtainable everywhere, 1/3 and 2/6 (treble size), also in tablet form. 'Milk of Magnesia' brand Tablets, 6d., 1/-, 2/- and 3/6. Each tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of the liquid preparation.

FASHION NEWS OF THE MONTH by the Lux News Scout

Blouse and Slip join up — AND SAVE A YARD OF MATERIAL

HERE is a splendid material-saving idea—blouse and slip in one.

To make the blou-slip, you need only 3 yards of 36-inch material, instead of 4 yards for a separate blouse and slip. What's more, your blouse will no longer "ride up."

Choose a washable material and cut the skirt an inch or two shorter than your normal skirt length. The blouse can, of course, be made to any design you choose. An attractive tailored version is shown here—fine-weave white rayon crêpe with round neck, tucked front and nearly straight skirt, well-darted at the waistline.

Wash the blou-slip always in Lux, if you possibly can, because Lux is gentle and won't harm the fabric. What's more, Lux lather is so rich, dirt comes out with just a quick squeeze through—and you know how ruinous rubbing can be!

Here are some hints which will help to make your Lux go further. Always measure it carefully; 1 level tablespoonful of Lux is all you need to make a good lather in one quart of water.

Remember, too, it's best to measure the water as well. You see, if you use more water than you actually need, you'll use more Lux. So keep a jug handy for measuring.

Lux is a Lever Product, made in Dublin.

Where appropriate, prices for smaller quantities must not be at a higher rate than the standard maximum rate. For instance, the price of ¼ oz. of tea must not exceed 1½d.

It is illegal to sell or offer for sale any of these commodities at a price in excess of the appropriate price. The public are requested not to pay more than the price stated, and to report without delay any instance of attempted overcharging to the Department of Supplies, Ballsbridge, Dublin, so that proceedings can be instituted against the offender.

Purchasers are reminded that they are entitled by law to request from the seller a statement in writing giving particulars of any purchase made. Where the price charged is in excess of the appropriate price, the purchaser should ask for a statement as provided by the Emergency Powers (Particulars of Sales) Order, 1941, AND NOT FOR A RECEIPT. The statement should be forwarded to the Department as evidence.

Purchasers are also reminded that it is illegal for a retailer to sell any of the above-mentioned commodities upon terms that the purchaser of such commodity shall, in addition to such commodity, purchase some other commodity, or pay for the rendering by the vendor of any service in connection with the commodity purchased or any other commodity.
